College Group Discontinues Russ Courses

The Deans' committee has decided to discontinue the courses now being offered in Russian language and literature, according to Mr. Joe H. West, dean of student personnel and guidance.

Dean West said these courses are being discontinued because of insufficient enrollment.

"This decision was reached a year ago," explains Dean West. "The State Department of Education is concerned about the number of small classes in State colleges. They are making a study now, and there is every indication that we shall have to justify offering any course in which fewer than 10 to 12 students are enrolled."

Students enrolling in beginning Russian language courses last fall were notified that the second year of the language would not be offered, according to Dean West.

"We came to this decision only after very careful consideration," he said.

Dean Compiles Housing List

The college housing situation will undergo a re-evaluation as the result of action by the Housing committee Wednesday.

The committee under the chairmanship of Mr. E. S. Thompson, college business manager, assigned the task of evaluating and handling college housing to Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, assistant Dean of Women.

Mrs. Pritchard will check the records of all applicants for housing in Spartan City and these applications will be listed in terms of a priority rating. The list is expected to be completed by June 15, and will be posted in front of the Dean of Women's office.

The new list will have students' names listed in order of priority, and housing at Spartan City will be assigned through it as vacancies occur. Vacancies are expected as a result of June graduation.

Mrs. Pritchard's office has handled men and women's housing since September, as the result of a centralizing move initiated to place all part-time employment under the Dean of Men's office and all housing under the Dean of Women's office.

May 15 is Deadline For Grad Clearing

May 15 is the deadline for graduating seniors to clear all business with the Graduate Manager's office, and June 1 is the last day for paying Senior Week dues, according to Mr. William Felse, graduate manager.

Graduating students paying Senior Week dues after June 1 will not receive diplomas at the commencement exercises in June. They will be permitted to participate in the exercises, but the diplomas will be given at a later date. The fee also pays for Senior Week activities.

All August and September graduates are also affected by this deadline.

The Weather

Somebody ought to hand out mint juleps and sun shades on days like these. Today's peerless day is fair but cooler. A comforting cool, that is. Yesterday's high was 82 with a low of 52. Skies were clear.

Members of the senior class (left to right) Lee Flynn, Ed Burnham, Betty Brisbin, and Len Teshera, pick the Library arch to sign up for the Senior Overnight. Deposits made this week by graduating Spartans will be refundable until May 26, according to Overnight Chairman Brisbin.

'Asilomar Overnight' Is First Event on Senior Holiday Sked

"Asilomar bound" are members of the Class of '50 who signed up for the class overnight, to be held June 3 to 4. Deposits of $3 made this week by aspiring graduates will be refundable until May 26.

The total price of the trip, $6, will include transportation, food, and lodging at the popular Pacific coast playground. Patrons for the affair include Miss Mary Hooton, Dr. G. A. McCallum, Dr. Robert Rhodes, and Dr. Carl Duncan.

The overnight will be the first in a group of annual senior activities, according to Class President Fred Michels. June 17 will officially open Senior Week with the Senior Ball, to be held at the Jockey club of Bay Meadows race track.

Other events featured in the senior "holiday schedule" include Baccalaureate, June 18; Senior Day, June 19; faculty reception and council party, June 20; Senior Beach Day, June 21; and the class banquet on June 22.

Service Opens New Y House

Scrap book memories and a candle-light dedication highlighted the ceremonies that marked the official opening of the new Student Y house, 272 S. 7th street, Wednesday night. Approximately 100 people passed through the new headquarters during the evening.

The house dedication service opened with group singing. Cecil Webb gave the scripture reading. The second movement of "Sarabande" by Handel was played on the viola by Jean Welch.

Scrap book memories, which was a record of the Student Y at San Jose State college, was led by Jewel Austin and Gene Standfield. They called on several members of the Y, who told what the SJS Student Y meant to them.

The candlelight dedication, depicting body, mind, and spirit in the Y movement, was performed by Del Duke, Herb Thomas and Joan Kimble. Candles were lighted on the three corners of the Y triangle in the ritual. Student Y President Ron LaMar gave the summary.

The service closed with the prayer of dedication by the Rev. Jim Martin, executive secretary of the Student Y.

Film Shown Today

The motion picture "Dust or Destiny" will be shown this morning in Room 112 in the Natural Science building.

The film will be shown under the sponsorship of the Moody Institute of Los Angeles and Chicago and will show the living habits of several unusual species of animal and marine life.

ROTC Obtains Colors Today

A ceremony for the presentation of new colors to the San Jose State college ROTC department will take place on the San Carlos turf, this afternoon at 2:50 o'clock, according to Colonel James Hea, head of the Military Science department.

Plans for obtaining the new colors were started two years ago when Colonel Hea first came to SJS. The hand-made flag will feature the California state seal in the center with the name San Jose State college circumscribing it.

Baruch Criticises 'Fair Deal' Policy

NEW YORK, May 11—In a blistering speech on the Truman "Fair Deal" program, Bernard Baruch, elderly statesman, said that too much government is the "greatest threat" to American freedom.

Throughout his speech to 1400 students and faculty members at the school of business and civic administration of the City College of New York, Baruch dwelled on the "false gospel of security through deficit financing." Rather, he said, the first bulwark of security is individual savings and inflation its worst enemy.

13 Court, Council Posts Become Vacant in June; Offices Are for 1 Year

By FRED BURBANK

Candidates to fill 13 Student Body offices will be nominated this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Little Theater. All positions are for one year terms, and those elected will take office following the Recognition assembly, June 3.

ASB executive posts to become vacant are president, vice-president, treasurer, recording secretary and corresponding secretary. Any student is eligible provided he has completed 75 units at the time of the election and has been enrolled at San Jose State college for one year.

Council Representatives
Council representatives will be nominated from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes to serve as next year's sophomore, junior and senior representatives. Nominees must not be more than six units deficient for their classes.

The offices of two representatives-at-large are to be filled by one woman and one man. Candidates may be graduates or under-graduates.

Student Court positions available are two senior justices, one woman and one man; and a prosecuting attorney. Requirements for the justice posts are enrollment in the college of at least one year and completion of 114 units at the time of election. Candidates for prosecuting attorney must have completed 75 units and must have attended SJS for one year.

More Requirements
In addition to other requirements, all candidates must be on clear academic standing and members of the student body.

Nominations will be handled by the Student Council and the Student Court with Don Schaeffer, ASB president, in charge.

Schaeffer said that nominations for the executive positions will be held first, followed by those for the class offices and Student Court.

Candidates are to be nominated from the floor and, in addition, the person making the nomination will be required to submit a blank bearing the candidate's name, ASB number and office sought.

Persons nominated must indicate their acceptance either orally or in writing or face automatic disqualification.

Students Give $500 to Drive

More than $500 has been donated to the World Student Service fund drive, according to Rosemarie Nichols, treasurer.

With fraternity and sorority receipts still coming in, Rosemarie says the trophy will not be awarded until next week.

"Plans are being made for next year's WSSF drive," said Co-chairmen Barbara Barr, "we want to insure a more receptive campaign next year."

John Cole, traveling secretary for WSSF, addressed the Student Council last week, and gave new points to consider in planning for the next WSSF drive.

Howser to Speak

Attorney General Fred Howser will be the target of questions this afternoon from 2 to 3 p.m. when Phi-Sigma-Kappa holds a question-answer session in their house at 598 Ninth street, according to Coy Staggs, PSK president.

"More things like this question-answer session should be held to promote political awareness among SJS students," ASB President Don Schaeffer said.

Staggs urged interested students to attend.

Flyers Show Skill Sunday

The third annual Spring Air Meet sponsored by Alpha Eta Rho, local chapter of the international aviation fraternity, will be held this Sunday at the Warm Springs airport, according to Bob Gross, president of the fraternity.

Starting time for spectators will be 10 a.m. All competing pilots are requested to be at the airport at 9 a.m. for a briefing. Gross said that spectators will be admitted free, and will have a chance to win a free ride in one of the airplanes at the field.

Approximately 15 students from San Jose State college have signed up to enter the air events so far, and Gross said that a number of faculty members are expected to compete.

Mr. R. H. Johnson, aviation safety agent for the CAA, and several local flight operators, have been selected as judges.

Anyone desiring to enter the meet is asked to sign up at the aero-laboratory, or on the sign-up sheet posted on the bulletin board just outside the Morris Daily auditorium. There will be a registration fee of $1 for competing pilots.

Registrar's Office Reminds Teacher Candidates to Pay

Thirty-five candidates for teaching credentials in June, 1950, have failed to pay the $4 credential fee due April 15, 1950, according to Mrs. Margaret Henningsen of the Registrar's office.

Mrs. Henningsen says recommendations for issuance of credentials cannot be forwarded to Sacramento until the fees are paid.

Engineers Close Tourney Sign-ups

George Cashman, publicity director for the San Jose State college engineering society, announced that today will be the last day to sign up for the student-faculty golf tourney, which will be part of the Engineering Picnic to be held Saturday, May 20 at Alum Rock park.

The tourney will highlight the picnic athletic activities, which also include a hike and softball game. Those competing in the tourney will have to pay their own green fees.

The picnic is open to all SJS students. The fee will be 50 cents for members of the engineering society, and $1 for non-members.

Rally Leaders Plan to Elect Baseball Girl

By ED CONKLE

Plans for the queen contest from which a campus lovely will be chosen to reign over the intercollegiate baseball game June 1, were revealed at a Rally committee meeting Wednesday.

According to Louise D'Onofrio, queen committee chairman, a queen will be selected in the final judging on May 17, to represent San Jose State college in an intercollegiate baseball championship game. The teams will be composed of outstanding baseball players from San Jose State, Stanford, Cal Poly, and other colleges.

"Any girl wishing to enter the contest," Miss D'Onofrio stated, "should leave her name in the Rally committee box in the Coop. All names must be submitted not later than May 15."

Candidates will appear in person before the Rally committee next Wednesday night for final judging.

Yell Leaders

Bob Baron, yell leader committee head, announced that yell leader try-outs will be held within the next two weeks, and that sometime during this period yell leader aspirants will work out with veteran yell leaders to familiarize themselves with the yells.

"The main trials," Baron said, "will be held at the inter-squad football game on June 7, when those desiring yell leader posts will have a chance to display their talents."

"Anyone interested in participating in the try-outs may contact me through Box B in the Coop."

The intersquad game will have all the characteristics of a regular grid battle including yells, majorettes, yell leaders, song girls and a band.

Song Contest

The Rally committee is still working out plans for a song contest similar to the one that was held last year, from which "Down from Under" emerged. Fight and novelty songs are being stressed for this quarter's contest and all the rules will be announced next week.

Card stunts for the San Jose State-Santa Clara game, the victory flagpole and Mr. Spartan, are matters which will be taken up at next week's meeting.

Manager Reports To Business Class

Mr. William M. Hayes, branch manager of the Monroe Calculating Machine company, Incorporated, gave a machine demonstration in Mr. William J. Saunderson's Office Management class yesterday.

His topic in connection with the demonstration was, "What an Office Manager Should Look for in Office Machines."

Glen Major, a recent SJSC graduate, assisted Mr. Hayes with the demonstration. Major is employed by the Monroe company, and will leave soon for its training school in Texas.

Symphonic Band Offers Varied Music Program

By CHARLEEN LITTLE

The San Jose State college symphonic band, under the direction of Mr. Frederick T. Boots, will present a concert of music written especially for band Thursday, May 18, in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

The oldest piece to be played will be "Sonata Piano Forte" by Giovanni Gabrieli. Written in 1597, it is one of the oldest compositions for brass instruments.

"Washington's Grand March" is from the early days of our own country. Four other marches will be presented on the program. "Naval Reserve March," John Philip Sousa, written in 1844, is one of the lesser known marches by America's march king. "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," Roy Harris, is a free adaption for band written in 1942. "March-In Memoriam" was written by Darius Milhaud in 1947, suggesting a tribute to modern heroes. The band also will play "March, Opus 99," Serge Prokofieff.

A 19th century work by Richard Wagner, "Trauersinfonie", presents funeral music on themes from Weber's "Eury-anthe".

"Elegy Before Dawn", Norman Cazden, is a unique modern work built around a single tone. Two other modern works will be presented. They are "Hymn and Fuguing Tune No. 1", Henry Cowell, a contemporary work with an early American flavor, and "A Solemn Music", Virgil Thomson, featuring a new utilization of the twelve-tone system.

For many years the principal fare of bands has consisted of parade marches, overtures from otherwise forgotten operas and musical comedies, transcriptions from orchestral works, accompaniments for displays of instrumental virtuosity, and "educational" products more pleasant to the player than to the listener.

Occasionally, however, the world's great musical minds have turned toward the band as a medium of expression. Much of the early music for bands of other years has recently been made available in a form playable by bands of today.

In addition, today's composers are discovering that the concert bandstand is at least as direct a channel to the hearts of the people as the more rarefied atmosphere of the symphony orchestra hall.

Poem Reveals Engagement of Betty Sample

During the recent Delta Zeta initiation luncheon at Rickey's, a poem was read announcing the engagement of Betty L. Sample and Paul C. Bryan Jr.

The usual box of "goodies" was passed to sorority sisters by Miss Sample, who is a senior occupational therapy major at San Jose State college. In addition to DZ, she holds membership in Thi Beta. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Sample of CleElum, Wash., are the parents of the bride-elect.

Bryan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Bryan of Albany. A junior majoring in business at SJSC, he passed cigars to his Phi Sigma Kappa brothers at a recent fraternity meeting.

A definite wedding date has not been decided by the young couple.

Jean Kinney Passes Candy To Sisters

Choosing the traditional mode of passing candy, Miss Jean Kinney announced her engagement to Ross McKelvie at a recent dinner party of her Alpha Chi Omega sisters.

Miss Kinney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kinney of Whittier and is a graduate student at San Jose State college, where she is obtaining her special secondary in art.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McKelvie of Burlingame. He is a senior business administration major. His fraternal affiliation is Theta Mu Sigma.

A surprise guest at the dinner was Miss Betty Lou Kinney, sister of the bride-elect. Miss Kinney is also a graduate of San Jose State college.

Kappa Phi Initiates 18 New Members

Initiation ceremonies for spring pledges of Kappa Phi, Methodist women's organization, were held Tuesday evening at Centella Methodist church.

New initiates are Ann Ruffner, Lila Brown, Marilyn Moffitt, Caroline Robins, Lorrie Johnson, Sally Wells, Lucille Reichert, Beatrice Pilz, Leona Weaver, Joanne Lawson, Kathryn Cummins, Margaret Pearson, Annette Bright, Dorothy Howard, Jeanne Boggs, Ruth Rector, Alice Hayes, and Mayre Muller.

Kappa Phi members entertained the spring pledges with a barbecue recently at the Willow Glen home of Joyce Hayward. Jean Saxon and Shirley Mitchell were co-chairmen for the affair.

Theta Chis Hold Birthday Party

The San Jose State college chapter of Theta Chi will commemorate its second anniversary as a national group on this campus with an all-day retreat to Hearst Dude Ranch in Pleasanton Sunday, according to Herb Patnoe.

One-time local fraternity, Beta Chi Sigma, the group obtained its national affiliation May 15, 1948. This was the 81st chapter to be added to the national Theta Chi roster.

Social Affairs Chairman Bob Custer announces the afternoon activities offered by the ranch will be climaxed in the evening by a barbecued chicken dinner. Dancing will wind up the day's festivities.

"growing pains". Mothers will be reminded, by way of centerpieces, of the various stages their daughters went through in growing up.

Something unique in dessert will be a delicacy in the shape of a flower pot. About 40 mothers are expected to attend. Dull Skulls Pattie Peck, Lois Williams, Billie Prosser, and Pattie Roche will provide entertainment.

Splashing Surfwise: Delta Theta Omegas will launch another annual reunion next Saturday when they band together with alums to participate in their "luau" celebration. Alumni swim suits will come out of the moth balls, and actives will drag their suits off the clothes-lines for some toe-tipping seaward duty. Claude Finley, chairman for the affair, plans an Hawaiian theme and is urging gals to wrap up in sarongs and fellows to flash out in loud print shirts. Dancing will wind up the day at Pleasure Point in Capitola. Alumnus Bill Mahoney has graciously donated his Surf Club for the day to the gang which will include Don Foulger, Eben Hubbard, Taylor Chambers, Don Downey, and Louis Eike.

Massachusetts Bound: Sigma Kappas will entertain Peninsula alumni tomorrow at the 11th street chapter house. Purpose of the affair (although unknown to the visitors) will be to "send Mary Lou to convention". Mary Lou Gardner and "Sis" Plough, president, will attend Sigma Kappa national convention in Massachusetts this June. Contributions will be asked for in a most subtle manner. "Lou" was chosen by the girls to accompany Sis as the unofficial delegate for Beta Rho chapter.

Speaking of Revelries: Friday night, through the gracious consent of the associated student body, 50 cast members of "Low Button Shoes" gathered together at Vahl's in Alviso to eat and reminisce. Food and talk were bountiful. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Balgooyen, Dick Pritchard, Bill Pen-tony and numerous others ate and spoke. A letter from Mr. E. S. Thompson, business manager, comptroller, commended the work of the cast and technical staff. Quotes from Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie and Dr. Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech and Drama department, revealed their sincere satisfaction with the production. Dr. Gillis said the show was the best one in 18 years. Quite a profound statement!

Moms and Pops: Theta Mus decided to make this Mother's Day one for dads, too. Tomorrow after noon at the chapter house following a buffet luncheon, moms and pops will settle down (at each other's throats probably) to play some cards. You know what happens when the home rule tosses the cards.

OAKLAND, Calif., May 11 (UP)—A man made news yesterday by biting himself. Felix Wheat, 41, in Alameda county jail awaiting trial for robbery, yawned when he woke up. His set of five false teeth came loose and dropped down his throat, clamping against his inner esophagus.

He was taken to the hospital where doctors pried the teeth loose. They said he will have a sore throat for a while.

Accommodations for the madres and padres have been arranged and those parents who can't journey homeward in the evening will stay overnight with Junior.

Saucers or Triangles? Rocket trips to the moon only 25 cents will be the chant of the Delta Upsilon pledges next Friday night when they launch their "Future Fashions Frolic". A costume prize for the most modernistic attire will be awarded. Darrel Dukes, "super-vitaminized" pledge prexy, and Tip Harr, chairman of the dance, arranged for the Los Gatos History club in which to hold the affair. Gals and fellows are to wear the most extreme costumes they can devise, Darrel stated. Rumors are that he is designing a cylinder for himself in which he will roll around all evening as a flying saucer.

Pledges Fete Members

Dee Portal's ranch near Mount Hamilton was the scene of an SAE pledge-member party recently according to Steve Everett, publicity chairman. The fraternity pledge class played host to members and their dates during the day-long picnic-party.

Swimming, dancing, and games filled the agenda, while the tra-ball game highlighted the day. The perpetual trophy is still in the hands of last year's winners, the actives. A barbeque dinner and dancing culminated the annual affair.

Pete McNeill Resigns As Equipment Manager

By DONNIE NUNES

Under the lights of Municipal Stadium while watching a recent baseball game, Pete McNeill told of his resignation as equipment manager of San Jose State college's Physical Education department.

The tanned, energetic man with a friendly twinkle in his eye watched each Spartan player perform, with the same enthusiasm and interest that a father would have while watching his son. A sloppy catch or a needless strike brought the same remarks from Pete's lips that hundreds of other good-natured hecklers utter every baseball season.

"There's on 'of my boys," he would say, as a youthful athlete would stride up to home plate. "He lived at our house for two years. One of the nicest young fellows you would ever want to know." The "kids" rate high with Pete.

In the spring of 1945, Pete came to San Jose State college. Little did he know that he would soon become a necessary part of the Athletic department. His job involved handling all equipment for athletic teams which, he stressed, is no small job when football, baseball, basketball, rugby, tennis, boxing, wrestling, swimming, golf and track are played. To him there are no seasons; one runs right into the next with no time for breathing.

Although boxing is his favorite sport, Pete boasts of having seen every contest in which the Spartan teams have participated at home until his work began to throw him behind schedule. "Football season is always the most pleasant season for me. The students' interest and enthusiasm add the needed touch to make a grid game exciting."

When Pete first came to San Jose from Tuolumne in 1945, where he had been postmaster, the college on Washington Square had a student body of about 1300. Approximately 139 boys were enrolled in college. Finding athletes was a tough thing to do in those days. "But now, the college has outgrown its staff," he commented.

For several years Pete and his wife have operated Varsity house on Seventh street. Boys who play every sport live there under the guidance of the friendly couple. "I feel as if I know those boys better than their closest friends. I've lent them money, given them advice, and have watched them become some of the top athletes on the west coast."

Although the McNeills never had any sons, they may thank their two daughters for bringing them to San Jose. The girls were attending college here and the folks decided to come along with them. Nadine married Charles Blackwell, who played guard on the football team in 1946, which, to Pete, was one of the outstanding events during his stay at San Jose.

Plans for the future are as yet undisclosed. "I think I would like to travel a little, that is, if Mrs. McNeill would enjoy it. But at the moment we have no definite plans in mind. I guess I'm leaving just because I'm getting too old and mean," he laughed.

Norton Present At Bikini Test Of Atom Bomb

By RALPH PETERSON

Richard K. Norton, junior mathematics major at San Jose State college, was one of the few witnesses to view the test of the effect of the atomic bomb on warships at Bikini atoll July 1-25, 1946.

Assigned as a seaman to the destroyer USS Ingerham, he watched from 21 miles away the effect of two bombs which were exploded.

"Before the surface blast we were all under a tremendous strain which was accentuated by the assurances of our safety by the ship's officers. Rumors that we all might be killed or injured by an atomic chain reaction or radiation left most of us feeling weak-kneed." Thus Norton described his and his fellow seamen's feelings before the test.

Little feeling of appreciation for the privilege of witnessing the blast was voiced by the crew as the seconds were called off before the blast.

The first indication he had of the explosion was the sight of a rising plume of pink and white boiling smoke. Later he heard the noise which did not seem exceptionally loud. The feelings of the men after the explosion, he described as being relieved and experiencing a sort of anti-climax. Nothing unusual happened to his ship or the crew and he and his shipmates were soon back to their usual sea duties making it difficult to realize the history taking place.

The popping of a cork being removed from a champagne bottle is how Norton interpreted the sound of the second blast which was exploded under water. This time, more assured of his safety, he was able to appreciate more fully the significances and reaction of the blast.

"When we put aside the thought of the awful destructive power produced, we could appreciate the beauty and scope of the blast. Water gushed dramatically upward in a slow rolling cloud of colors and then precipitated slowly back to the sea. The vapor had gone a mile high and had sprayed radio-active water over a large area." This was how Norton described the under water's beauty and results of the second explosion.

It was only a few days after this blast that Norton had a party with his shipmates on a portion of Bikini Atoll. The land did not seem to be radioactive where they celebrated and the only indication of anything unusual was that a few of the trees had scorched leaves.

Norton, whose home is in Mesa, Ariz., came to San Jose State after leaving the Navy, because he had developed an interest in mathematics and wanted to better his chances of advancement when he later starts work.

Teen Ager Impressed By Atlanta Jailbirds

ATLANTA, May 11 (UP)—The attractive teen-ager surveyed herself in a large mirror. She might have been making last minute preparations for a high school dance date with her best boy friend. But that was not her destination.

The mirror hung in the chief jailer's office at grim, stone-faced Fulton county tower here. She had come to visit. Her family thought she was either at school or on the way home.

She was one of numerous thrill-seeking bobby soxers who haunt the jail corridors, strolling along banks of cells in search of men—and some form of romance.

"What will girls think of next?" wondered huge Hugh Cromer, chief jailer.

He said they show up during visiting hours, often with school-books under their arms. Some are only 15 to 16.

They beg and plead for permission to visit some prisoner whose name they often snatch from newspapers so they'll have a bonafide excuse to get inside the jail.

Cromer said many of the feminine visitors are there to see actual loved ones. But most of the bobby sox brigade comes just for the thrill.

Once inside the cell area, the girls pick out their man by the simple process of looking them all over.

What happens then? At first, they just talk, giggling school-girlishly. But more often than not, Cromer said, the first visit and "introduction" results in a flow of letters pouring out undying love for the man behind bars.

They return when they can, bearing gifts of candy, food and cigarettes.

Cromer said he tried to offer fatherly advice to the feminine visitors, particularly those of the obvious thrill set.

But they still come, and plead, and visit and find romance separated by prison bars.

Law College Boosts Units

Hastings College of Law in San Francisco has announced that its entrance requirement has been increased from 90 to 120 units of undergraduate work for the 1950-51 academic year, according to Mrs. L. E. Scott of the Education office.

The change was necessitated by the increase of student petitions. The college is designed for 300 students but there were 915 in attendance in 1949-50.

In the 1951-52 year the college hopes to be able to accept students with 90 units of undergraduate work. However, they will have to remain four academic years in order to qualify for the degree of bachelor of laws.

Hastings college urges students in undergraduate schools to file applications and transcripts as soon as possible.

For further details see Mrs. L. E. Scott in Room 110.

Two College Officials Visit Business Officer Convention

Mr. E. S. Thompson, San Jose State college business manager, and Mr. Glen Guttormsen, college accounting officer, were back in the business office Wednesday after attending the three-day 12th annual convention-meeting of the Western Association of college and university business officers.

The convention was held in the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley, May 7, 8, and 9. The University of California played host. According to Mr. Guttormsen, the meeting started at 4 o'clock Sunday and lasted through part of Tuesday afternoon. He said that approximately 120 western colleges and universities were represented.

"At least half of the time was spent in question and answer periods," said Mr. Guttormsen. "The western college and university business officers seem to be actively going after the solutions to their problems."

Some of the topics discussed by the group were, in the order of their importance: The problems arising from procedures in budget preparation, control and accounting, salary and student assistance problems, student enrollment during the next 15 years, central purchasing, financial reports, retirement programs, and residence hall problems.

Mr. Guttormsen expressed satisfaction at the way in which the meeting was conducted. "If a representative had a problem, he put it before the group in a matter-of-fact way, and if another officer had an answer to the problem, he would offer it."

Staffers Visit Hoover Books At Stanford U.

A quartet of San Jose State college librarians will visit nearby Stanford Saturday to inspect the Hoover library.

Miss Joyce Backus, Miss Dora Smith, Miss Jeanette Vander Ploeg, and Miss Helen Bullock will make the tour with College, University and Research librarians of the California Library association.

Dr. Raynard C. Swank, director of the Stanford library, will be in charge of the group.

The visit will start with a tour of the law library, according to Miss Smith. Following this will be a luncheon and later on a special tea in the recently opened Lou Henry section of the Hoover Memorial room.

Two talks are scheduled also, Miss Smith indicates.

"California Medical History in the Gold Dust Days," is the subject of a talk by Mrs. Frances T. Gardner of the University of California medical school. Professor Hubert Heffner of Stanford's drama and speech department will discuss, "The Theatre in the Democratic Life of California."

Spartans Upset Dons 4-2, Romero Wins 5th

By ROSS MASSEY

The San Jose Spartans scrapped the USF baseballers yesterday afternoon at Townsend Field in San Francisco as Ralph Romero, bespectacled, senior righthander, allowed the Dons only eight well-spaced hits to shelve a 4-2 win.

Romero was never headed as he pitched his best effort of the current campaign. He struck out eight men and walked two, besides helping his own cause with a home run to right-center field and a double to left.

Big Dave McCarty was also a star for the Gold and White as he collected two singles in three ABs and drove in two runs in the big three-run first inning. Earl Wright also collected two for three.

Bob Thollander, lean right-hander who opposed Romero on the hill, was the loser for the Dons. Thollander allowed seven Spartan bingles and struck out nine men. Tom Vick, hard hitting rightfielder for USF, hit for the circuit in the sixth inning with a teammate on first to bring in the two Don tallies.

The next Spartan game will be played against Santa Clara at Washington Park in Santa Clara. The Cal Poly doubleheader at San Luis Obispo has been cancelled, according to Danny Hill, athletic publicity director.

Locals Thump Gael Netters

Coach Ted Mumby's classy courtmen yesterday routed St. Mary's on the Moraga courts 8-1. Mumby used only one of his regulars, Dave Parnay, against the improved Gaels.

Parnay, playing first singles, beat Miles Brown of the Gaels in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. Only Ernie Manteca, playing No. 6 singles for the lads from Moraga, was able to beat a San Jose player. Manteca downed Bud Wilkinson in three furious sets, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Joe Dawkins, Bill Lattimer, Tom Fike and Lee Jensen were other local winners in singles play. Parnay and Dawkins were victorious in first doubles. Lattimer and Fike in second doubles, and Jensen and Wayne Thiebaud in third doubles also won their matches from St. Mary's representatives.

Golfers Trim SD, Zakarian Cards 68

Playing some of the finest golf seen on the coast this year, the San Jose State college golf team defeated San Diego State, 21 to 15, yesterday at Mission Valley Country club.

Led by Joe Zakarian's 4-under par 68, the Spartans posted a team score of 283, 5-under par. The Aztecs also played sub-par golf, carding a team total of 285.

In match play, Ken Venturi and Warren MacCarty beat Gene Littler and Frank Morey, SD, 10-8. Zakarian and Jay Hopkins applied the clincher by trimming Lloyd Schunnehan and Bill Hurlburt, 11-7.

Martin, Mattos to Lead SJSC At Fresno Relays Tomorrow

By DOUG PRESTAGE

Still smarting from various muscle strains, a select group of San Jose State college trackmen will compete for high honors in the 24th annual West Coast relays at Fresno tomorrow. Spartan entries are restricted, mainly, to field events, but should give a good accounting of themselves. The USC Trojans almost are certain to repeat as team champions.

Some preliminaries, particularly in the elementary school, high school, and junior college divisions, will begin at 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Finals in all events, beginning with the open 5000 meters run, are slated to start at 7:40 p.m. The meet will be held in Ratcliffe stadium.

Individually, San Jose has its strong points in the high jump and pole vault with Mel Martin and George Mattos, respectively. Mattos appears to be a sure winner and could eclipse "Dutch" Warmerdam's college record of 14 ft. 6 3/4 in. Warmerdam's open mark of 15 ft. 2 in. seems to be safe for another year.

Porch Faces Field

Dore Purdy faces a tough grind in the 5000 meters (3 miles, 288 yards), a little over his customary one- and two-mile routes. The doughty veteran usually comes through, nevertheless. Spear-thrower Boyd Porch, probably would be looked upon as somewhat of a prodigal in eastern athletic ranks but will have hard sledding against the best in the west at Fresno.

Primary interest in the meet no doubt will be centered on the special 400 meter race, matching Herb McKenley, the long-striding gazelle from Jamaica, and Mal Whitfield of Ohio State university. McKenley, formerly of the University of Illinois, holds the world's record for 440 yards (slightly shorter than 400 meters) at 45.9 sec. Whitfield owns the Olymp-pic games' 800 meter standard of 1 min. 49.2 sec.

San Jose's entries are: Martin, high jump; Mattos, pole vault; Ron Maire, broad jump; Porch, javelin; George Nickel, discus; Dave Porter and Frank Morris, shot put; Purdy, 5000 meters; 880-yard relay, probably Owen Moore, Rueben Derrick, LaVerne Hall, and Dan Sawyer or Jim Gillespie, and mile relay, Moore, Derrick, Stu Inman, and Don Davis. The relay entries are tentative.

Frosh Face SCU

San Jose State's frosh baseball team hopes to break the Santa Clara hex today when they face the Bronco yearlings at 2 p.m. in Municipal stadium.

The Mission towners edged the Spartans, 8-7, in the previous meeting.

Matmen Notice

Wrestling team members who plan to attend the picnic at Alum Rock Park on Monday, June 9, are asked to pay Coach Ted Mumby, or a committee member by Monday, June 4. The price is $2.00 a wrestler. The stag party has been voted down.
